Purpose

Cherry Trees School is committed to the physical and mental wellbeing of all its employees and this policy sets out how the organisation will manage those obligations and commitments. The organisation recognises that performance and wellbeing are linked and that striving for a reasonable balance between work life and home life, will ultimately lead to improved individual and organisational performance and success.

Aims

The aims of this Wellbeing Policy are:

- To attract and retain the right people in the right jobs to deliver improved outcomes for young people
- To support all employees at Cherry Trees School to give their best in a supportive and positive environment
- To put into place measures to prevent and manage risks to employee wellbeing, together with appropriate training and support
- To encourage employees to have honest conversations with their line manager when support is required
- To ensure line managers recognise the signs of a colleague who needs support and to know how to approach and manage the situation
- To reduce sickness absence by focusing on preventative approaches
- To carefully plan and agree work-life balance solutions, including flexible working where possible and appropriate, whilst maintaining focus on operational delivery and excellence in teaching and learning
- To acknowledge the need for Cherry Trees School's Leadership Team (including the Governing Board), trade unions/staff representatives and employees to discuss wellbeing and workplace approaches
- To operate fairly and consistent complying with health and safety and equality legislation.

Responsibilities

Governing Board

The Governing Board and Senior Leadership Team will ensure that health and wellbeing are a primary consideration and will ensure that Cherry Trees School fulfils its legal duty of care to employees and review the effectiveness of this policy. The Executive Headteacher will be responsible for ensuring relevant policies and procedures are implemented and followed.

Line Managers

Line Managers at Cherry Trees School must familiarise themselves with the relevant organisational policies to ensure measures are in place to minimise the risk to employee wellbeing. Line managers can reduce the risks to employee health and wellbeing by:

- Ensuring employees understand their role, what is expected of them and how standards will be measured
- Fostering a team culture where open communication is respected and encouraged, and everyone's contributions are valued equally leading to high motivation and morale
- Ensuring employees know who to approach with concerns about their work or wellbeing
- Ensuring workstations and resources are appropriate and fit for purpose
- Providing the necessary support with work direction and clarification, providing regular feedback and praise and addressing individual workload to ensure a fair and reasonable balance of work between the team
- Taking responsibility for following the relevant policies when required and taking decisive management action to minimise the risks to employee wellbeing e.g. prompt referrals to Occupational Health and conducting risk assessments.

Employees

Everyone has a personal role and responsibility for managing their own health and wellbeing to ensure they attend work on a regular basis to fulfil their contract of employment. Employees can do this by adopting good health behaviours (e.g. in relation to diet, alcohol consumption and smoking) and informing School if they believe that work or the work environment poses a risk to their wellbeing.

Cherry Trees School is committed to supporting disabled employees and employees with disabling conditions by working with them to remove any disadvantage which may be a barrier for them. Any personal information disclosed about health and wellbeing will be treated sensitively.

- Will ask their Line Manager for help or support if required. This includes understanding that a good relationship requires communication from both parties and so it is important that issues are raised at the earliest possible moment so that effective strategies can be put in place to manage workloads.
- Will identify opportunities for development and take advantage of those offered by the school.
- Will apply for any requests for leave of absence in advance and be honest about sickness absence leaves.
- Will share their views, ideas and feelings about all issues concerning the school at formal meetings and informal gatherings
- Will recognise difficulties colleagues may be facing and offer support

- Will make themselves aware of the school's policies on Capability, Bullying and Harassment, Staff Attendance etc.
- Will assist in the development of good practice and ensure that they do not, through their actions or omissions, create unnecessary work for themselves or their colleagues.

Occupational Health Service

Line Managers and employees can contact the organisation's Occupational Health Service on 01785 276284. A comprehensive Occupational Health Service is available for employees who are attending work or are absent due to illness. Occupational Health support the organisation's approach to wellbeing by providing:

- Individual consultations
- Pre-employment screening
- Fitness for work assessments
- Vaccination service
- Training for line managers
- Advice on return to work plans and rehabilitation back into work

If employees believe that their work, or some aspect of it, is putting their wellbeing at risk they should, in the first instance, speak to their line manager. A referral to Occupational Health will be made if this is considered appropriate after an employee's initial discussion with his/her manager. Discussions between employees and the Occupational Health professionals are confidential, although a report will be provided to the employer so they have advice from a medical professional on how to best support the employee.

Support for healthy minds

Cherry Trees School offers a counselling service through ThinkWell providing any employee who is struggling with mental health with access to professionals who can support them appropriately. For more information please see Appendix A

Healthy workplace

Employees that have good wellbeing and are engaged with the organisation will go the extra mile, give their best, have less sickness absence and be committed to their job and their employer.

Cherry Trees School is committed to implementing the following factors for wellbeing:

- Values-based work environment and management style with unity of purpose, and being treated with dignity and respect
- Line managers who are well trained in people management skills and confident in their approach
- Positive working relationship with good team working, open communication, co-operation and flexibility

- A reasonable balance between work and home life
- The ability to negotiate workload and pace without fear of reprisal
- Managers who promote an attendance culture and know how to use appropriate health services (such as Occupational Health) and manage common health problems (such as mental health and musculoskeletal disorders).
- Personal growth in terms of career and skill development

Corporate Social Responsibility

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) is an organisation's commitment to take account of its economic, social and environmental impacts in the way it operates, while improving the quality of life of the workforce, the local community and society.

CSR activities demonstrate the organisation's commitment to its values, enhances the relationship between the organisation and its employees, boosts morale, attracts and retains employees and improves the organisation's reputation. This leads to an increased sense of wellbeing at work.

Policy framework

This Wellbeing Policy should be read in conjunction with other policies and procedures including but not exclusively:

- Managing Attendance at Work
- Flexible Working
- Time Off
- Health and Safety

ThinkWell

offers friendly, confidential help to keep your mental health on track

ThinkWell Service – supporting you to care for your emotional wellbeing

There are times when life feels like an uphill struggle but getting help early can make all the difference. ThinkWell provides friendly, confidential, fast track access to prevention and early intervention services which meet the needs of individuals who are struggling with their emotional wellbeing. The support available from ThinkWell includes self-help courses, access to on-line, telephone and individual counselling from independent counsellors.

Getting help directly

Colleagues can request support for themselves directly from ThinkWell by completing a self-referral form or telephoning. Anyone accessing ThinkWell in this way will receive all the same benefits as those who are referred by their managers. These self referrals are strictly confidential and managers will not be notified or receive any reports.

Manager referrals

To ensure individuals get the help they need, managers are expected to make referrals to ThinkWell at the earliest signs that the emotional wellbeing of an individual might benefit from support.

A manager must discuss with the individual a referral to ThinkWell where they are absent from work for a reason which could be described as having a psychological basis including anxiety, stress, depression or bereavement. Clinical evidence has shown that the earlier support is made available the better the chance of a speedy recovery.

Getting quick access to the support only requires a manager to complete the referral form, including the employee's signature and forward this to ThinkWell. The individual will then be contacted for a telephone assessment as soon as possible. The assessment will provide immediate confidential advice for both the individual and the manager about how to support their wellbeing.
